

augmentation and regeneration

About

The 2014 Human2.0 conference aims to expose students to cutting edge research in the field of assistive technologies and regeneration. Through engaging speakers, panels, and a poster presentation, attendees will experience topics ranging from the next-generation prosthetics and stem-cell based organ regeneration to robotic exoskeletons and integrated tissue/microelectronic system. This is the fifth annual medical innovation conference hosted by Stanford Students in Biodesign. Our past conferences on pediatric medical devices, medical robotics and technologies for the developing world have each been attended by over 250 students, faculty, and professionals. Participants in our past conferences include representatives from more than 50 companies and academic institutions across the nation such as Intuitive Surgical, Hansen Medical, Accuray, and SensAble technologies, Stanford, Johns Hopkins, Carnegie Mellon, University of Pennsylvania, MIT and more.

Where

Human2.0 will be held in Clark Center Auditorium on Stanford Campus

When

Human2.0 will take place on the day of April 26, 2014 from 9:30 am-4:30 pm

Who

We expect roughly 200 students, faculty, and affiliates of Stanford to participate in the event

Why we want you (and how you can help us):

As a sponsor of the human2.0 Conference, you will add considerable value to the event. You can help us help bring the visiting speakers to Stanford, support students presenting their research, fund refreshments and meals throughout the event, and much more.

In addition to monetary support, we always appreciate the extras:

- Sending company outreach representatives is always very helpful to students. It is a great way to bond with the upcoming talent by interacting with students directly
- Give students goodies. Giving out swag is a great way to advertise your brand, as the students will keep and use any gear that you give them.

Sponsorship Benefits:

- Sponsoring such an event gives you direct recruiting access to the some of the best young talent in the nation
- You'll be able to meet and network with participants and poster presentersduring and after the event.
- Your company name and logo will be displayed on all marketing and printed materials for our conference, meaning your brand will be shouted far and wide from all corners of Stanford campus.
- We'll provide a link to your business from our conference website.
- Sponsors receive free registration for up to (5) employees/members from the sponsoring entity.

Sponsorship Details:

- Our suggested sponsorship amount is $500-1000 dollars, but any and all contributions are welcome!
- Contact ssbconference2014@gmail.com if you're interested in supporting us or if you have any questions or concerns!

Current Sponsors:

